

THE SCENE LOCK-IN™ — Sales Partner Scorecard

PRIVATE • Internal only • Do not share with applicants

This is how we choose the inaugural six. We are not convincing people to spend $30K. We are finding six founders the Lock-In was built for.

Who we're looking for

An established, visible founder with a proven offer, meaningful customer value, the financial capacity to responsibly invest $30K, evidence that she already shows up publicly, a content bottleneck AI can materially solve, and a clear system for continuing execution after the residency.

Why this matters: the first six are not just customers. They are the proof cohort. Their content has to go live after Lake Oconee, and their results sell every future Lock-In. The wrong $30K buyer costs more than an empty seat.

Priority leads: med spa / aesthetics and beauty founders.

Also welcome if they're a strong fit: high-ticket coaches and consultants, established creators, luxury realtors and team leaders, and other visually driven founders.

The process

Step	Who	What happens
1. Application review	Sales partner	Score Gate 1 from the application. Decline, waitlist, or invite to a call within 3 business days.
2. Discovery call (30–45 min)	Sales partner	Confirm Gate 1. Score Gate 2. Take first notes on Gate 3.
3. Final call (15–20 min)	Destyni	Score Gate 3. Make the final decision.
4. Acceptance	Destyni / sales partner	Send the acceptance message. The seat is held for 5 business days.
5. Seat secured	Applicant	Signs agreements and pays $15,000 (or $30,000 in full).
6. Onboarding	Event producer	Welcome packet, SCENE FILE intake, travel windows.

Final approval is Destyni's. A high score earns a call with Destyni. It does not earn a seat. If Destyni gets on the call and knows she doesn't want to live with this woman for seven days, that counts, and she doesn't have to justify it.

The one limit: Destyni doesn't accept someone who failed a must-have without writing down why. This keeps the whole team honest when someone is exciting on the call.

Gate 1 • Business fit

Can she win from this? Scored from the application and confirmed on the discovery call.

Must-haves (any "no" = decline)

Must-have	Pass looks like	Application Qs
Proven offer	She is selling it now, has paying customers, and is amplifying something that works. She is not still figuring out what the business is.	9–12
Financial capacity	$30K is a responsible investment, not a stretch. A useful guide is $40K+ months, or a high-ticket offer plus real cash reserves. Revenue is a signal, not a hard cutoff.	14, 27
Shows up publicly	She already posts or goes on camera (posts, lives, podcasts, stories), even if not consistently, and she's open to an AI twin.	16–19
AI use case	There's a real content bottleneck the week can solve, and a believable path from better content to revenue (high customer value, or volume).	13, 21–23

Scored signals (1–5 each • 25 points)

Signal	1	3	5
Offer strength	New, untested, or changing	Selling steadily, some proof	Proven, in demand, clear results
Financial comfort	Would strain her or the business	Doable with planning	Easy decision from cash or budget
Visibility	Rarely posts, dreads the camera	Posts sometimes, open to more	Posts regularly and enjoys it
Revenue path	Unclear how content makes money	Plausible path	Obvious: high customer value or proven volume
Investing history	Has never invested meaningfully in growth	Has invested at $3K–$10K	Has invested at $10K+ and can say what she got from it

Investing history is a signal, not a requirement. Someone who has never bought a $30K mastermind can still be perfect. What matters is that she understands investing for leverage and can make the decision without it destabilizing her finances.

Segment bonus: +2 for med spa / aesthetics or beauty. +1 for other visually driven businesses.

To pass Gate 1: all four must-haves pass and 18+ out of 25.

Gate 2 • Execution fit

Will the content actually get built and go live? Scored on the discovery call.

Must-haves (any "no" = decline or defer to a future cohort)

Must-have	Pass looks like	Application Qs
Can attend the full week	She has confirmed the dates, with coverage for clients, team, kids, and home.	33
Someone owns publishing	She has a believable answer to "Who is responsible for getting this content published once you leave?" A VA today isn't required. A specific person, or a specific plan and habit, is. "I'll figure it out" doesn't pass.	25–26

Scored signals (1–5 each · 15 points)

Signal	1	3	5
Publishing plan	Vague, or "I'll figure it out"	She owns it herself and has some habit	A named person or team with hours set aside
Coverage for the week	Still has to arrange a lot	Mostly arranged	Fully covered, no pull back home
Pre-work readiness	Unlikely to finish the intake on time	Will get it done	Organized, and has brand assets ready to send

To pass Gate 2: both must-haves pass and 11+ out of 15, with Publishing plan at 3 or higher.

Gate 3 · Room fit

Will six founders be better off with her in the house? First notes from the sales partner, final score from Destyni.

Automatic red flags (any one = decline)

- Desperation energy: "this is my last shot," or needing the week to save the business
- Paying with money she can't afford to lose, or credit she can't clear
- Entitlement: treats staff poorly, expects personal service beyond the offer, or pushes on price and terms in a way that signals trouble
- Hates being visible and wants to disappear behind the brand
- No real offer: wants help deciding what the business should be
- Anything that could disrupt six women living and working together

Scored signals (1–5 each · 15 points)

Signal	1	3	5
Coachable	Defensive, knows best	Open to direction	Asks for feedback and acts on it
Collaborative	Only about her	Pleasant, keeps to herself	Generous: celebrates others, shares what she knows

Signal	1	3	5
Professional	Disorganized, late, or dramatic	Reliable	Calm, prepared, respectful of everyone's time

To pass Gate 3: no red flags, 12+ out of 15, no signal below 3, and Destyni says yes.

Scoring summary

	Points	Pass mark
Gate 1 · Business fit	25 (+2 bonus)	All must-haves + 18
Gate 2 · Execution fit	15	All must-haves + 11, Publishing plan ≥ 3
Gate 3 · Room fit	15	No red flags + 12, nothing below 3, Destyni yes
Total	55 (+2)	Pass all three gates

If more than six founders pass, rank by total score, then Destyni chooses the mix. Aim for a room that works together: a mix of businesses that can learn from each other, with no one who would be isolated.

Decisions after each gate:

- Advance: passes the gate
- Waitlist: a strong founder with a timing issue (dates, cash timing, publishing support not ready yet). Invite her to the next cohort.
- Decline: failed a must-have, has a red flag, or is too far from fit

Discovery call guide (sales partner)

Opening (2 min): Thank her. Explain that this is a two-way conversation to see if it's a fit, that seats are limited to six, and that Destyni makes the final choice.

Gate 1 · Business fit

- "Walk me through your business: what you sell, who buys it, and what a client is worth to you."
- "What's working in your marketing right now? What isn't?"
- "What are you launching or pushing in the next 90 days?"
- "If you left with 30 days of content done, what happens in your business?"
- "How are you thinking about the investment? Where would it come from?"
- "What's the biggest investment you've made in your growth? What did you get from it?"

Gate 2 · Execution fit

- "Who is responsible for getting this content published once you leave?" (Push for a name or a specific plan.)

- "What does your week look like if you're gone for seven days? Who covers clients, team, and home?"
- "The residency starts 2–3 weeks before, with a detailed intake and your brand assets. Can you get that to us on time?"

Gate 3 • Room fit (first notes)

- "Tell me about a group program or mastermind you've been in. What did you bring to it?"
- "What would you want from the other five founders in the house?"
- "What would make this week a disappointment for you?" (Listen for unrealistic expectations.)

Close: "Thank you. I'll share my notes with Destyni. If it's a fit, the next step is a short call with her. Either way, you'll hear from us within [X] business days."

Never on this call: send a checkout link, promise a seat, discount the price, or promise specific results.

Destyni's final call (15–20 min)

This call is about chemistry, standards, and vision. It isn't a sales pitch.

- "What made you apply?"
- "What do you want to be known for a year from now?"
- "How do you feel about building a digital version of yourself?"
- "What kind of energy do you bring into a shared space?"
- Destyni's gut check: Do I want to live and work with her for seven days? Will the other five be better off with her there?

Messages

Acceptance (from Destyni)

Subject: You've been selected — THE SCENE LOCK-IN™

[First name],

You've been selected as one of six founders for the inaugural SCENE LOCK-IN™.

We didn't choose you because you applied. We chose you because what you've built deserves to be seen, and because I believe you'll make the house better for the five women beside you.

For seven days at Lake Oconee, you'll step out of normal life and build the AI content machine your business hasn't had the time to build. Then, for the next twelve months, you stay plugged in.

Your seat is held for 5 business days. To secure it: 1. Review and sign your founder agreement: [LINK] 2. Submit your first payment of $15,000 (or $30,000 in full): [LINK]

Once your seat is secured, your welcome packet and SCENE FILE intake arrive within 48 hours.

I can't wait to build with you.

— Destyni

Waitlist (strong fit, timing issue)

[First name], thank you for applying to THE SCENE LOCK-IN™. You're exactly the kind of founder we built this for, and I'd love to have you in the house. Right now the timing isn't right for this cohort because [reason]. I'd like to hold a priority spot for you in the next one. We'll reach out first as soon as dates are set.

Decline (kind and clear)

[First name], thank you for taking the time to apply to THE SCENE LOCK-IN™. We read every application closely, and we've decided this cohort isn't the right fit right now. That isn't a judgment of you or your business. The Lock-In is built for a very specific stage and setup. If it helps, [THE SCENE AI community / a resource] is a great place to keep building. We're rooting for you.

Applicant tracker

Set up a spreadsheet with these columns, one row per applicant.

Column	What to enter
Name / segment	Her name, and her segment (aesthetics, beauty, coach, creator, realtor, other)
Gate 1	Must-haves ☒ or ☒ , score out of 25 (+2 bonus)
Gate 2	Must-haves ☒ or ☒ , score out of 15, publishing plan score
Gate 3	Red flags (none, or list them), score out of 15

Column	What to enter
Total	Out of 55 (+2)
Destyni	Yes / No, plus a one-line reason
Status	Advance / Waitlist / Decline / Accepted / Secured

Status definitions: Applied, then Call booked, then Destyni call, then Accepted, then Secured (agreement signed + $15K paid), then Onboarding.

All agreements, payment terms, refund policy, and filming consent go through the attorney before the first acceptance is sent.